
may be reconsidered at the same time the next subsequent meeting, and it is the duty of Councilman Koenig to bring to the next meeting for reconsideration unless the parliamentary practice of moving to reconsider and at the same time moving to lay that motion upon the table, has been indulged.

Hines on Both Sides
Surprise was expressed at the action of the Council in eliminating Councilman Hines from the conference body, when the votes were counted Tuesday. Hines was named on both sides that were submitted, and Reber approach advocates smiled broadly at Councilman Fletcher when he asked Hines to withdraw from one side or the other. Later it was agreed that probably some of the Republican members who wished to side with the Reber approach advocates voted for three of the four Republicans and omitted the Democrat, Hines. The result was that both sides supported Dr. Herrmann unanimously several Reber approach men voted for Dr. Randall and four evidently voted for Councilman Koenig, who led the forces a week ago in filing the A. & M. amendments.

Councilman Julius Heller offered the first state, comprising Hines, Randall and Fletcher. Councilman Arndsen, objecting to the names of Randall and Fletcher, immediately offered a second state consisting of Hines, Herrmann and Koenig, all Reber approach men. Each member voted anonymously on slips of paper for three committeemen.

Councilman Heller introduced a resolution, at the request of Frank H. Gerhart, asking that the Council endorse the bill pending in both branches of Congress, authorizing the President to appoint a commission of engineers to choose a competitive approach for the bridge, and extending the time for completion five years from the present limit, Feb. 1, 1915.

Owner of Land Opposes Condemnation by A. & M.

That there are at least two grasps in the right of way of the proposed Alton & Mississippi approach to the free bridge which real estate speculators, backed by a majority of the House of Delegates, are trying to force the city to build at a cost of $4,500,000, and that there is no certainty that the speculator who would be able to deliver the title to the approach they offer, is revealed in a condemnation proceeding pending in the St. Clair County Court in Belleville.

The parcel of land involved in the suit includes nearly six acres, partly within and partly without the city limits of East St. Louis. It is a part of the land which is described in the Alton & Mississippi approach bill, and which the promoters have time and again tried to palm off on the city.

It is known that the Alton & Mississippi has no title to any of the property involved in the suit and essential to the approach, and that its only hope of this, under present conditions, is for the settlement in its favor of these legal proceedings. The records show that at least one of the owners of the land is opposing the condemnation suit. They also show that the Alton & Mississippi promoters had permitted the case to be continued several times, and that there has been no serious effort made to bring it to trial and obtain title to the land.

The condemnation suit was filed by the Alton & Mississippi in 1912. The defendants are the Illinois State Trust Co. trustees for Charles L. Kraft; Horace J. Eggman, Antoinette Eggman, F. J. Steer and Ida May Steer, the Southern Illinois Trust Co., trustees for the same persons, the Alton & Southern Railway Co., Maurice V. Joyce, and the heirs of Alex Pfeiffer.

The Alton & Mississippi asks that a tract of way 100 feet wide be condemned through lot 128 of the Common Fields of Cahokia, 200 feet wide through lots 294, 271 and 272 of the third subdivision of Cahokia Commons, and through lots 294 and 283 of the third subdivision of Cahokia Commons. The total acreage of the land involved in the suit is 5.44.

At the time of the filing of the suit Joyce was on a tour of the west, and Kraft is not a resident of Illinois. This made it possible to get service of the suit by publication, which permits a longer delay before trial than where personal service is obtained.

The record of the County Court shows that, although the suit was filed seven months ago, and twice has been set for hearing, it never has been argued by the attorneys for the Alton & Mississippi.

Condemnation Is Opposed.
On the other hand, a grave question of the probability of its success in the future, and of ever obtaining title to the land, is raised in a motion filed by the Alton & Southern Railway in opposition to the condemnation of a right of way across the Alton & Southern right of way.

The Alton & Southern alleges that the Alton & Mississippi cannot condemn the land in question because of the fact that much of it already is in use for railroad purposes, and that the A. & M. promoters are not proceeding properly, having failed first to make application to the Illinois Board of Railroad and Warehouse Commissioners for the right to cross the Alton & Southern tracks.

Another point raised is that the Alton & Mississippi does not want the land for the purposes of a railroad, and that it has no right to condemn it for the purpose of giving it to the City of St. Louis for a bridge approach.

On these questions and such other legal questions as other owners of the land may raise on the trial of the condemnation proceeding, if ever it comes to trial, will depend the ability of the Alton & Mississippi to carry out that portion of its promise to deliver a right of way for the approach to the city of St. Louis.

The Joyce land within the city of East St. Louis is near the end of the bridge and a failure of the company to obtain it would require that the route of the Alton & Mississippi approach, if selected, would have to be altered from the end of the bridge unless the city could come to terms with the owners of the land after the promoters had failed.

The land owned by the other defendants, which makes the second gap in the right of way, is south of East St. Louis and about on a line with Twenty-first street.

Joyce was associated with former City Counselor Lambert E. Walther in resisting suits brought by the A. & M. for the purpose of blocking the Reber approach, and rendered valuable service to the city in those cases. Since that time he has quit the practice of law and has become president of the Illinois State Bank in East St. Louis.

He told a Post-Dispatch reporter that as he was no longer actively connected with the approach litigation he did not care to discuss the condemnation suits. It is known in East St. Louis, however, that he plans to oppose the suits to obtain his land for the A. & M. approach, and that he has privately expressed the opinion that he does not believe the land can be legally taken under the pending proceedings.

When a Post-Dispatch reporter tried to interview Schermer about the gap in the title Schermer declined to discuss the matter, saying that any questions about his approach plans would have to be submitted to his attorneys in writing.

Free Bridge Primer

1. Who selected the Reber approach?
ANSWER: It was selected by the Board of Public Improvements and unanimously approved by a committee of expert, impartial, disinterested engineers.

2. Do we own the Reber approach?
ANSWER: Yes, we have condemned and bought $140,000 worth of land for it, which we own.

3. Can we build any other approach?
ANSWER: The City Counselor has advised the Municipal Assembly that we have lost the lawful power to condemn any more land for any other approach.

4. Will the Reber approach be used?
ANSWER: Yes, because of its convenient location it can be used by all the railroads to bring new trade and prosperity to St. Louis.

5. Is the Reber approach a good approach?
ANSWER: Yes, it is the shortest, freest, most convenient and cheapest approach.

6. Cannot the Reber approach be bottled by the Terminal Association?

ANSWER: No, because the United States Supreme Court says the tracks and bridges of the Terminal must be kept open to all roads that want to use them. If they cannot bottle their own bridges, they cannot bottle the city's free bridge.

7. Has not the Reber approach $2,750,000 bond issue been defeated three times?

ANSWER: Yes, but it got a big majority of the votes cast and only fell short of the two-thirds majority necessary to carry a bond issue.

What reason is there for believing it would pass now?
ANSWER: The United States Supreme Court decision, which opens the Terminal's facilities to all roads, has removed the argument which did most to defeat the three bond issues. The bridge cannot be bottled.

9. What will the A. & M. plan cost?

ANSWER: Either $4,250,000 or $7,000,000.

10. What will the Reber approach cost?

ANSWER: $2,750,000.

11. Where will the A. & M. approach end?

ANSWER: In St. Clair County, 20 miles away.

12. What is the nature of the A. & M. plan?

ANSWER: It is admittedly a speculative real estate grab.

13. What should be done?

ANSWER: The House of Delegates should join the Council in submitting to the public a $2,750,000 Reber approach bond issue and let the public decide.

ITCHING ERUPTION
ON ARMS AND LIMBS
Became Red and Pimples Formed.
Could Not Keep from Scratching.
Clothing Irritated It. Cuticura Soap and Ointment Cured.

Thursday, Kansas—"Some two or three years ago the trouble began with irritation and itching on my arms and lower limbs. The affected parts became red and pimples or eruption formed. The itching was so severe that I could not keep from scratching and some sores formed on my face and limbs. The clothing irritated at times and made the itching worse."

"I tried various remedies relieving to some extent the trouble but I continued to suffer and finally the malady spread over my body but was very bad on my head and face and around my waist. The skin became rough and thick and sores formed on my face. The itching and burning often kept me awake at night. I began using Cuticura Soap and Ointment last winter. I bathed with the Cuticura Soap and hot water at least once a day and used the Cuticura Ointment on my face and limbs. In five months I was cured." (Signed) E. Cameron, Sept. 17, 1913.

The regular use of Cuticura Soap for toilet and bath not only tends to preserve purity and beauty the skin, scalp, hair and hands, but assists in preventing inflammation, irritation and clogging of the pores, the common cause of pimples, blackheads, redness and roughness, yellow, oily, mothy and other unsightly conditions of the skin. Cuticura Soap (25c) and Cuticura Ointment (50c) are sold by druggists and dealers throughout the world. Liberal sample of each mailed free, with 25-p. Skin Book. Address post-card "Cuticura, Dept. T, Boston."

For men who shave and shampoo with Cuticura Soap will find it best for skin and scalp.

REVELLE SAYS HE BLOCKED PLOT TO BURN BIG HOTEL

State Insurance Superintendent Caused Arrest of Manager of Pullman House in Sedalia.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.
MEXICO, Mo., Feb. 4.—The plan to burn the Pullman Hotel of Sedalia was discovered by State Superintendent of Insurance C. G. Revelle and through his efforts was thwarted, according to a statement Revelle made here today at a meeting between the Insurance Commissioners and the citizens of Mexico.

Revelle says his department was notified of the arson plot, Monday, by a man who said $250 had been offered to him to start the fire. Upon being notified of the plot, Revelle, with the aid of his department, obtained a sworn statement from the man.

Chief of Police Howard Wood, Sheriff James Carr, Prosecuting Attorney W. D. O'Bannon and his assistant, Paul Barnett of Pettis County were apprised of the plot.

After the rooms on the second story of the hotel are said to have been saturated with oil, the manager, W. C. Williams, was arrested last night. The building was insured for $30,000. Revelle says he has a complete confession in his office.

MOTHER! REMEMBER "SYRUP OF FIGS" IS THE IDEAL LAXATIVE FOR A CHILD.

Look back at your childhood days. Remember the "physic" that mother insisted on—castor oil, calomel, cathartics. How you hated them! How you fought against taking them!

With our children it's different. Mothers who cling to the old form of physic simply don't realize what they do. The children's revolt is well founded. Their tender little "insides" are injured by them.

If your child's stomach, liver and bowels need cleansing give "California Syrup of Figs." Its action is positive, but gentle. Millions of mothers keep this harmless "fruit laxative" handy; they know children love to take it; that it never fails to clean the liver and bowels and sweeten the stomach; and that a spoonful given today saves a sick child tomorrow. It should be the first remedy given as it always does good, never any harm.

Ask your druggist for a 50-cent bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," which has full directions for babies, children of all ages and for grown-ups plainly on each bottle. Beware of counterfeits sold here. See that it is made by "California Fig Syrup Company." Refuse any other kind with contempt.—ADY.

Successful Florist Gives Experience

Has Made a Personal Test of Plant Juice and Says It Is Very Good.

Mr. E. T. Heite, a florist who lives at Marion, Kansas, and whose address is R. F. D. No. 1, Box No. 22, makes a statement here that will interest many:

"I have been a great sufferer with a severe pain in my back for over thirty years. At times the pain was so great that I could not turn over in bed. In all these years I have never been free from pain and there are no words to describe my constant suffering. I used plasters and liniments and everything I could hear of, but none of them gave me the least bit of help. For the past two years I have suffered a great deal with my stomach and lower bowels. I had a great deal of pain and was sore across my stomach and abdomen nearly all the time. I finally concluded to try Plant Juice and from the second day I knew I had tried the right thing at last. I kept on taking it and now I feel like a different man and can do any kind of work. I am free from pain and can turn over in bed at night without pain, something I have been unable to do for years. I certainly have a warm spot in my heart for Plant Juice, for it has cured me when all others failed."

If you suffer with any derangement whatever of the stomach, kidneys, liver, nerves or blood, give Plant Juice a trial. It will not disappoint you and will help when all other remedies have failed. Get a bottle from Wolff-Wilson's drug store and give it a trial.—ADV.

PALACE CAPTURED, PRESIDENT OF PERU SEIZED IN REVOLT

Military Band Makes Attack at 4:30 A. M.; Takes Possession After Sharp Fight.

THE PREMIER IS KILLED

Residents of Lima Are Panicked; Business Houses Are Closed.

LIMA, Peru, Feb. 4.—The President of the Republic of Peru, Guillermo Billinghurst, was taken prisoner today by military revolutionists.

The rebels suddenly attacked the presidential palace at 4:30 this morning under the leadership of Col. Benavides. Gen. Enrique Varela, Premier and Minister of War, was killed in the sharp fight which ensued.

Dr. Augusto Durand, a former revolutionary leader, whose arrest was sought by the police yesterday, took possession of the palace. It is generally believed that he will at once organize a new government.

President Billinghurst was taken as a prisoner to Callao, from which port he will be sent into exile. Thousands of the inhabitants of Lima dashed into the streets, alarmed by the firing. Squads of soldiers were ordered to fire volleys into the air in order to prevent the formation of crowds in the streets and by this method they kept the panic-stricken people moving from place to place.

In the vicinity of San Pedro Church, a civilian bystander was killed by a bullet.

Great alarm prevails throughout the city. Banks and stores were closed today and private houses barricaded. The street cars, however, began running before noon.

Economy Order Cause of Revolt.
Peru's revolutionary trouble is due principally to President Billinghurst's earnest efforts to place the finances of his country on a sound basis. His scheme for doing this involved the strictest economies throughout the public service and naturally proved unpopular, particularly among office holders who saw their salaries and estimates pruned with a merciless hand.

At the end of last year, Congress refused to vote the budget and President Billinghurst issued a decree declaring that the old estimates would remain in force till the end of 1914. Petitions from many of the provinces were presented to the President asking for the dissolution of the Congress but all the political parties opposed this step as unconstitutional.

President Billinghurst is the son of an Englishman, but was born in Peru. His mother was a Peruvian. He is about 55 years old. In 1883 his father was drowned in a tidal wave. Young Billinghurst was educated in Peruvian schools and was a brilliant scholar. He wrote several books in his early manhood. He took an active part in the war between Peru and Chile and later became Mayor of Lima, the capital. He became President in September, 1913.

Dr. Durand in Several Revolts.
Dr. Augusto Durand, who today took possession of the palace, has led several revolutions in Peru. He fought against President Pardo in 1902 and against President Leguia in 1906. After his followers had been defeated and had surrendered to the Government troops in the latter year, Dr. Durand escaped to Chile, but he returned to Peru some time later and continued conspiring against the Government.

Dr. Durand was generally supposed to be the leader of the agitation against President Billinghurst.

HOUSE REJECTS PLAN FOR SUFFRAGE COMMITTEE

Caucus Votes 124 to 55 for Resolution Declaring Question Is a State Matter.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 4.—House Democrats at a caucus last night went on record against the creation of a House committee on woman suffrage. By a vote of 124 to 55 the caucus adopted a resolution declaring this a State question and rejecting the Raker resolution to create the committee.

Of the 290 House Democrats, a few more than 180 attended the caucus, some voting "Present" or not responding at all. Speaker Clark and Democratic Leader Underwood voted with the majority.

Hits Man With Baseball Bat.
Robert C. Patti, 35 years old, of 2314 Westminster place, Tuesday struck Thomas Lewis, 65, over the head with a baseball bat. Patti, under arrest on a peace disturbance charge, declared Lewis was using profane language in the house, where he was employed as a houseman, and resented being told to leave. Lewis is in the city hospital with a scalp wound. Patti is a salesman.

BILLBOARD WAR TO GO AGAIN TO U. S. SUPREME COURT

Company Gets Delay in Federal Court to Lay Additional Ground.

Judge Dyer in the United States District Court Wednesday granted another continuance to the St. Louis Poster Advertising Co., in its suit for an injunction to restrain the city from destroying its billboards. The hearing was laid over until 7 p. m. Thursday. City Counselor Baird was in court to argue against the injunction.

Attorney Matt G. Reynolds, for the bill-posting company, asked for the continuance, on the ground that the company desired to introduce additional affidavits so as to lay the ground for carrying the case to the United States Supreme Court.

Billboard interests after a nine years' fight against the 1905 ordinance recently withdrew their appeal from the Supreme Court of the United States. Reynolds filed a reply to the city's answer, which was submitted Tuesday. In the reply the company said it had been in business in St. Louis 20 years and never had been a party to litigation as to the validity of the billboard ordinance. It denied that it was a subsidiary of the Gunning Advertising Co., which had been prosecuted for ordinance violations.

Affidavits of James H. Smith, former Building Commissioner; Ernest J. Russell, an architect; H. W. Powers, former superintendent in the Building Commissioner's office, and Peter J. McAlley, president of the company, were filed.

These affidavits said the company's billboards were built to withstand a wind pressure of 30 miles an hour. McAlley in his affidavit said he never had heard complaints that billboards might be hiding places for thieves. He said that doorways and weeds might form as good a protection to lawbreakers as would billboards.

Aeolian Hall—Musical Center of Saint Louis

Here you will find the most famous musical instruments in all the world, each one supreme in its class—recognized everywhere as the leader.

The Technola

Here at last is a high-grade Player-Piano at a popular price—an instrument you will be glad to possess and one which musicians everywhere approve.

The Technola is not an ordinary Player-Piano in any sense of the word—it is a worthy product of the great Aeolian organization of player and piano experts and could not possibly be sold in an ordinary piano store for less than $600.

It plays full scale, 88-note standard music rolls and possesses all of the necessary features for properly accenting music and playing artistically.

$450 $2.50 a Week

Do not compare this with ordinary Player-Pianos because the price is only $450—you will pay at least $600 anywhere else for an instrument anyway comparable to the Technola.

The Technola may be played by hand in the ordinary way and when so played musicians will remark upon its beautiful tone and easy action.

Only a great organization with unlimited resources at its command and the most modern facilities could produce an instrument of this character at any price.

The player-action of the Technola is the result of over four years' work by the Aeolian organization and is a marvel of perfection—far ahead of any commercial player-action offered in connection with any instrument.

As pioneers in the development of the player industry, the Aeolian Company have always been at the front, and the Technola is but one of a series of splendid contributions made by it. Investigate, compare, and you will fully appreciate the Technola.

Victrola Offer

As Victor distributors we are in a position to show every instrument made by the Victor Company and every record produced by it. Instead of being disappointed through not being able to get the instrument or record desired, come to Aeolian Hall where a tremendous stock of instruments and records is yours to draw from.

The Victrola XIV, illustrated on the right, sells for $150. It is made in mahogany or oak, and contains six Victor record albums with a capacity of 102 records. It plays all sizes of Victor records, from the smallest to the largest.

The Victrola XIV, has a very large sounding chamber, exquisitely constructed and producing the true Victrola tone in all its purity and volume.

It is a massively-constructed instrument, which will satisfy the most exacting requirements and be a credit to the finest home.

We have selected twelve double face black Victor Records, regularly retailing at 75 cents each, the most popular ones now on the market, and now offer these in combination with the Victrola XIV, as displayed below.

Important Sale Thursday of New Spring Suits

For Misses and Small Women

Values that you will recognize as truly $9.95 exceptional at.....

Three Styles Are Here Illustrated

WE have accomplished the unusual in providing these exceptional values in Tailor-Made Suits for misses and small women at this remarkably low price. In the first place, we want to emphasize the fact that the materials are the very newest and pure wool.

The styles are copies of very high-class models. They are lined with silk serge and silk peau de cygne.

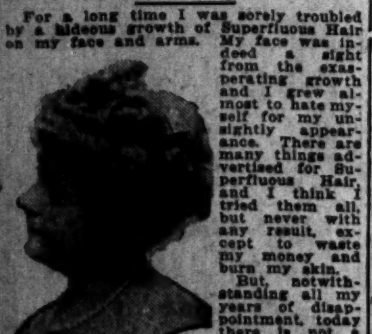

THESE remarkable suit values are striking examples of the marked advantage in buying at Sonnenfeld's. It is difficult to determine the actual amount of money that you will save unless you are thoroughly familiar with qualities and values and bear in mind that the same holds good for every line of new tailor-made Suits, Coats and Dresses at prices ranging upward to $97.50.

Very Special Values in New Silk Taffeta and Crepe Dresses $7.95, $9.95, $14.95 and $19.75.

YOU will be agreeably surprised with the cleverness of the styles, with the excellence of the materials and with the superior manner in which these garments are made. Values like these have been responsible for the remarkable increase in our garment business during the past two years.

HOW I CURED MY SUPERFLUOUS HAIR

A Friendly Scientist Showed Me How to Cure It Forever
I WILL TELL YOU FREE HOW TO GET RID OF YOURS, TOO

For a long time I was sorely troubled by a hideous growth of Superfluous Hair on my face and arms. My face was disfigured, and I was ashamed to go out. I tried everything, but nothing helped. I was then shown how to cure it by a friendly scientist. He showed me how to use a special cream. I used it for a few days, and the hair began to fall out. I used it for a few more days, and the hair was gone. I am now free of it forever. I will tell you how to get rid of yours, too.

HOW RESINOL CLEARS AWAY UGLY PIMPLES

It is so easy to get rid of pimples and blackheads with Resinol, and it costs so little, too, that anyone whose face is disfigured by these pests is foolish to keep on with useless creams, washes, or complicated "beauty treatments." See how simply it is done: Bathe your face for several minutes with Resinol Soap and hot water, then apply a little Resinol Ointment very gently. Let this stay on ten minutes, and wash off with Resinol Soap and more hot water, finishing with a dash of cold water to close the pores. Do this once or twice a day, and you will be astonished to see how quickly the healing, antiseptic Resinol medication soothes and cleanses every pore, leaving the complexion clear and velvety. Resinol stops itching instantly and speedily heals eczema, and other skin humors, dandruff, sores, burns and piles. Sold by every druggist, Resinol Ointment, 50 cts. and $1, Resinol Soap, 25 cts. For free trial size, write Dept. 38-R, Resinol, Baltimore, Md. Don't be fooled by "imitations."

JOHN D. RESISTS PAYMENT OF BIG TAX IN CLEVELAND

Will Seek Injunction Against $300,000,000 Assessment, Saying He Is Not Resident.

CLEVELAND, O., Feb. 4.—The demands made upon John D. Rockefeller by Tax Commissioners Fackler and Agnew that he pay taxes in this county on about $300,000,000 worth of personal property will be fought to a finish in the courts, according to Rockefeller's attorneys.

The Tax Commissioners declare they will be firm in their attitude to make Rockefeller pay taxes on his personal property on the ground that he is a resident of this county.

"Not Cleveland Resident."
"Mr. Rockefeller is not a resident of this county," said Attorney Virgil P. Kline. "He is a resident of New York. He was detained here by sickness in his family this winter but does this make him a resident of this city? I guess not."

The Tax Commissioners say that in as much as Rockefeller remained in this county several months he is a resident of the county under the new Warnes law, which defines as a legal resident of any county "a person who has lived in that county the greater part of a year preceding the first Monday in February."

The next move in the fight will be in the nature of an appeal to the courts by Rockefeller's counsel asking for an injunction against the Tax Commissioners.

"We discovered that the returns on personal property have been showing marked decreases since 1880. Credits listed for taxation in 1880 were $20,000,000; in 1910, $20,000,000. Stocks and bonds in 1880 were $10,000,000; in 1910, $10,000,000," said Gov. J. M. Cox at Columbus today. "A change was made in the listing of public utilities and the power was transferred from the County Auditors to the State Tax Commission, with the result that, while the total valuation on public utilities in 1910 was $225,000,000, it is now $1,000,000,000."

"This suggested a taxing organization headed by the State Commission. It in turn appointed two commissioners in the large counties of the State and one commissioner in the smaller counties. These county commissioners appointed local assessors, which in the past were elected, and the whole organization was placed under the merit system."

"With the freedom of action under which the appointive officers operate a firm policy has been established of placing personal property on the duplicate. The Rockefeller incident is typical, except, of course, that this will be the largest individual assessment."

"Freedom of Action Now."
"The artistic tax dodgers have carried on a campaign of misrepresentation and by their demagogic have sought to convince the farmers that the new system is an invasion of their right, and that they no longer possess the power to elect their local assessors."

The circumstances of assessing Mr. Rockefeller for a sum commensurate with the benefits which he derives under the institutions of government as a citizen of Ohio, is the most emphatic refutation of the claims advanced by the tax dodgers.

"The Warnes taxation law is sufficient to reach, not only Mr. Rockefeller, but other similar cases."

FIVE WOMEN FINED FOR RIDING WIFE ON RAIL
Defendants in Volo, Ill., Raising Party Are Given Three Days to Raise $100 Each.

WAUKEGAN, Ill., Feb. 4.—Five women of Volo, Ill., accused of driving Mrs. John Richardson out of the village by riding her on a rail, yesterday were fined each by Judge Charles Donnelly. None of the women was able to pay her fine in court. They were given three days each to raise the money, during which time Judge Donnelly will consider the advisability of inflicting a jail sentence if the money is not forthcoming.

The women fined were Mrs. A. J. Raymond, Mrs. Emma Stadfeldt, Mrs. Anna Stadfeldt, Mrs. Alma Walton and Mrs. Chris Sable.

Mrs. Emma Stadfeldt, wife of the village blacksmith, and known as "Capt. Emma," was accused of being the leader of the woman's raiding party. She went bitterly in court when the fine was imposed.

The Basement Store's Semi-Annual Sale of "Dix" Make House Dresses

"Seconds" of Regular $1.50, $1.98, $2.50 and $2.98 Garments

$1 and $1.25

Dix make House Dresses need no introduction to St. Louis housewives, for they are widely known and have the reputation of being the most perfect-fitting and serviceable house garments.

And when we say that these Dresses are all in the 1914 models, you can realize the importance of this sale. Although they are known as "seconds," because of some slight imperfection in the way of a slightly crooked seam or small spot, the defects are so insignificant as to be hardly noticeable, and in no way effect the wearing quality of the garments.

These Dresses are made of chambray, gingham, fine percale and sheer lawn, cut on simple lines, trimmed with piping of contrasting materials, tabs, pockets and pearl buttons. Come in light, medium and dark backgrounds, with colored stripes, checks, dots and plaids, as well as several in solid colors.

All sizes from 34 to 50-inch bust measurement. "Seconds" of regular $1.50, $1.98, $2.50 and $2.98 qualities, in two lots, tomorrow at $1 and $1.25 (Basement.)

$1.50 and $2 Kimonos at 75c
Cost Kimonos, made of good quality flannellette, in floral patterns, border and motif designs. All sizes in the lot. Choice, $1.50 (Basement.)

THIRD OF CHICAGO'S ELIGIBLE WOMEN QUALIFY TO VOTE

153,807 Out of 450,000 Are Registered for Election Feb.
24; Suffragists Jubilant.

By Associated Press.
CHICAGO, Feb. 4.—Complete unofficial returns today show that 153,807 Chicago women registered yesterday and qualified as voters under the new Illinois suffrage law. Their first opportunity to exercise their franchise will be on Feb.
24 at the aldermanic primaries.

Women suffrage leaders are elated.
They estimated that fully one-third of the eligible women voters of the city had registered. Their figures show that approximately 450,000 women in Chicago are eligible to vote. This number equals the total registration of the men.

Approximately 580,000 men and women are now qualified to vote at the next city election, according to estimates by election officials. This is nearly 8,000 less than the total number of registered voters in New York City. Predictions were made by women leaders, however, that 300,000 additional women will qualify on the next registration day, March 17.

Total Registration Now 674,094.
The total number of men who registered yesterday was 85,161. Adding this number to the former registry total of 457,346, Chicago's unrevoked registration now is 674,094. Officials estimate that about 85,000 names of men voters will be dropped from the registry Saturday when the list is resumed. This estimate is based on the theory that about 20 per cent of the men voters have become disqualified by moving since the last registration.

The women who registered outnumbered the men in every ward of the city except the First Ward, which comprises the business district and what was formerly the segregated district. One of the heaviest registrations of women was in the Twenty-fifth Ward, a fashionable residence district on the North Shore, where 10,346 women registered as compared with 370 men.

Women election judges and clerks were a success in every precinct where they served, according to election officials. More than 700 women acted in this capacity for the first time in Chicago.

In the precincts where women acted as election officials most of the men who registered doffed their hats and threw away their cigars when they entered the polling places.

HELEN RING ROBINSON'S LINGERIE SOLD FOR DEBT

Finery Attached in New York to Pay $75.50 Claim to Senator's Press Agent.

NEW YORK, Feb. 4.—The lingerie of Helen Ring Robinson, Colorado legislator and the first woman Senator in the United States, was sold under the hammer at the Hotel McAlpin here to satisfy a judgment for $75.50 obtained by her press agent, Helen Dewey. Broadway turned out a large crowd to witness the sale.

Miss Dewey advertised the Senator's lecture tour, and said she had an agreement with Mrs. Robinson whereby there was to be an equal division of gate receipts on all lecture tours. These included $20 taken in at Tonkers and $5.80 at Poughkeepsie. The New York Pennsylvania tour netted $142. Of this Miss Dewey claims $75.50.

"We figure," said Senator Robinson's attorney, "that Miss Dewey has just $15.50 coming to her. My client is perfectly willing to pay this amount. In fact, she spent the best part of two weeks trying to locate Miss Dewey. But $75.50—that is preposterous. Senator
Robinson has not that much with her."

THACKERAY'S AFFAIR WITH MARRIED WOMAN SHOWN

Unpublished Letters Reveal He Was as Great in Renunciation as in His Love.

NEW YORK, Feb. 4.—Students and lovers of Thackeray may read a new and most interesting chapter in the life of the great novelist in the letters to and concerning Mrs. William H. Brookfield, hitherto unpublished, which form part of the collection of the late Maj. William H. Lambert, which is to be sold beginning Feb. 26.
All the world knows of Thackeray's friendship for Mrs. Brookfield, but there are few who know that Thackeray's feeling for Mrs. Brookfield was the compelling passion of his life.
He was as great in his renunciation as in his love, and that, in spite of all his care, he quarreled with Mr.
Brookfield. All this becomes known for the first time through the letters which Maj. Lambert guarded carefully during his lifetime.

CAPT. INCH GETS MEDAL

LONDON, Feb. 4.—Capt. Francis Inch, commander of the ship "Volunteer," which was burned in mid-Atlantic on Oct. 11, 1912, with a loss of 135 lives, was presented today with the freedom of the city of London. A magnificent casket encased the city's gift, which was accompanied by a gold medal, a gold watch and chain, a purse of gold and Lloyd's silver medal. The presentation was made by the Lord Mayor at the Mansion House.

At the same time a diamond and sapphire pendant and a silver tea service were presented to Mrs. Inch.
The Lord Mayor and William Marconi, the wireless inventor, delivered eulogistic speeches. Capt. Inch, in a modest reply, declared that he had done nothing but his duty.

In Another Purchase, 100 of the "Indestructo" Trunks Are Offered at Half Under Worth

Each year it is a custom of trunk makers to discontinue one or two of their numbers & to make room in their line for some new ideas they evolve. Then comes the problem of disposition of the discontinued models.

This hundred Trunks of the genuine "Indestructo" make are models which they have discontinued from the Spring lines but of which thousands have been sold to satisfied people. This is the second lot we have secured, the first being sold in two days of the most spirited selling we have recently experienced, about two weeks ago.

Present prices are an average half of what these bring in regular lines with

MILLIONAIRE SUEW FOR $500,000; GIRL HAS HIM ARRESTED

Octavio Guinle's Farewell Caused Her Intense Suffering, Says Monica Borden.

QUOTES LOVE LETTERS

Riverside Drive Young Woman Says Fiance Who Called Her "My Soul" Jilted Her.

By Leased Wire From the New York Bureau of the Post-Dispatch.

NEW YORK, Feb. 4.—Octavio Guinle, who is said to have inherited $5,000,000 from his father, Eduardo Palasin Guinle, a Brazilian, and an additional million from a Mr. Gifford, his father's business partner, was taken to the office of Sheriff Griffenhagen last night, a prisoner, with 24 hours within which to raise $500,000 bail, or be locked up.

Young Guinle's trouble arose from the unfortunate ending of a love affair, in which Miss Monica T. Borden of Riverside drive says she suffered so intensely that $500,000 is necessary as compensation. She sued Guinle for this sum and had him arrested for fear he would leave the country.

In her complaint, after telling of Guinle's vast wealth, which, she declares, yields him an income of $200,000 a year, she attaches the love letters alleged to have been written by him.

Couldn't Live Without Her.

Miss Borden declares that she first met Guinle in May, 1913, and a month later he told her his love for her was such that he could not live without her. She sailed for Europe, July 6, accompanied by her sister, Miss Violet. Before the steamship left the dock, she says she received a letter written from Hotel Knickerbocker, which read:

"My Darling and Sweet Mona: I am crazy. I do not know what to do without you. I have been crying since you left me alone without a soul to console me. You are the only woman I ever loved in my life. I am willing to do anything for you. Come to me and I am sure I will make you happy. Darling, you are my love, my soul, my life. I adore you, darling."

"O. GUINLE."

After her arrival in Europe Miss Borden says, she received cable messages from Guinle, and on her return he was at the pier to meet her. She alleges that from then until October his attentions were ardent, but leaving her only when compelled to do so by business engagements.

"I Am Yours Forever."

Miss Borden declares that, Oct. 15, she told Guinle he must cease his courtship, whereupon he promptly proposed that they be married without further delay. She put him off until next day, when he was accepted. Another letter, which she says he wrote about this time would indicate that there was some "sweetheart's" spat. This letter reads:

"My darling and Sweet Mona: 'Why do you hate me? You are my only love and joy. I love you better than myself. I am yours forever.'"

"O. GUINLE."

"I could not live without your dear face and wonderful personality," Guinle wrote in another letter, according to Miss Borden.

Miss Borden says she and Guinle arranged with Father Sheridan at the parish house of the Church of Our Lady of Lourdes for their marriage, Feb. 3, the banns were published and she purchased her trousseau, but Jan. 14 Guinle told her that he had received a cablegram from his mother objecting to his marriage.

"Even after he received this message,"

Wearing of the Green

The tinted wig has appeared in London. Light blue and dark green are popular colors for light women, but the dark ones prefer a deep purple.

Miss Borden continues, "he told me at the Hotel Ansonia, where he lived, that no matter what happened, we would be married."

Found Him Packing Trunks.

A few days later, Miss Borden says, Guinle told her he had received a cable from his brother, telling him that if he married her he would be put out of the importing firm of Guinle & Co., 42 Broadway.

Guinle then wrote her a farewell letter, she declares, in which he said:

"I love you. Millions and millions of kisses. Good-bye."

Miss Borden decided on having an interview with Guinle and last Sunday called on him at the Hotel Ansonia. She declares that he then was packing his trunks and told her he expected to sail on the Olympic, and that he showed her a cablegram from his mother, which read:

"Make no promise. Best to leave at once. Will talk it over."

The cablegram, Miss Borden says, was signed "Guilhermina," which Guinle had told her was the name of his mother.

Expected to Live in Paris.

Miss Borden consulted lawyers. The lawyers agreed with her that there was no time to lose and papers in the half million dollar suit were drawn up and the complaint filed before Justice Soudner in Brooklyn.

During his courtship, Miss Borden tells in her complaint how liberal Guinle had promised to be after marriage. They had expected to go to Paris to live and she was to have $50,000 a year for house-keeping expenses. She also had expected to wear jewelry worth a king's ransom which he was to have given her.

Guinle is an expert automobilist and a member of the New York Athletic and several other clubs. He is one of the founders of the Pan-American States Association.

CADETS RESCUE 100 GIRLS FROM A BURNING COLLEGE

Young Women Carried From Dormitory at Arkadelphia, Ark., in Night Clothes.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., Feb. 4.—Cadets of Ouachita and Henderson military colleges were the heroes of a fire which destroyed the Henderson-Brown Methodist College for Girls at Arkadelphia. The main college building, a four-story structure, and the young women's dormitory, a four-story structure, were destroyed. Everyone in the building was rescued. More than 100 girls were taken out by the cadets. Some of the young women wore only their night clothing, so fast did the flames spread. Their screams and cries could be heard for blocks. The fire originated in the storeroom of the college yesterday, and is supposed to have been caused by spontaneous combustion. The Fire Department saved the Key Music Hall, the only building left standing on the campus.

MAN GETS PAROLE; CHANGES HIS MIND TWICE; PUT IN JAIL

Charles Isley Wanted to Serve Term, but Gasps When Clerk "Orders" Stomach Pump.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

Charles Isley, 33 years old, of 1244 Franklin avenue, sentenced to 15 days in the workhouse for petit larceny, sought and obtained a parole, then changed his mind and decided he wanted to serve the sentence, and then changed his mind again. Isley's second change of mind was not allowed to stand, and Wednesday he began the serving of a sentence imposed Jan. 21 by Judge Miller in the Court of Criminal Correction. He was convicted with Joe Davis. Isley appeared at the Municipal Courts Building Tuesday afternoon and sought out his attorney, N. P. L. Roach. "Say," he said, "I want to serve that sentence." "But I got you a parole." "I know, but I want to serve that sentence. Joe's got to serve his, and I think I ought to serve mine." Roach took his client before Judge

Miller, who ordered the Sheriff to take charge of Isley and entered the revocation of the parole on the docket. Isley was taken to the Sheriff's room and told to sit down. In a few minutes a solemn faced clerk came in and called up the workhouse. "We're sending down to you a man by the name of Isley," the subject of the conversation overheard. "Better get the stomach pump and things ready." Isley gasped. He did not know the clerk was joking. He asked permission to obtain a stimulant across the street. Two deputy sheriffs followed him to Twelfth and Chestnut streets, where they became convinced Isley again had changed his mind. They brought him back to the Sheriff's office.

HUDSON Sixes

Six-40 $1750 Six-54 $2250

54 of the 79 Automobile exhibitors at the 14th National Automobile Show held in New York Jan. 3 to 10 this year, displayed six-cylinder cars. Eighteen showed Sixes exclusively. That emphasizes the dominance of Sixes.

Come Drive This Light Six

—you men who know only four-cylinder sensation should drive the HUDSON Six-40. It rides like constant coasting. In price, weight and fuel cost it is below any same-class Four. The price is $1750, f. o. b. Detroit. The weight is 2980 pounds—400 pounds less than last year's HUDSON "37." And it consumes one-fourth less fuel. Yet the HUDSON "37" was a four-cylinder car, with shorter wheel base, smaller capacity and lesser power. Some Fours of like capacity weigh 40 per cent more, and consume at least one-third more fuel. This means that the Six—the envied type—the smooth-running, flexible, luxurious Six—undersells, in every way, any same-class Four. It means that you men who want quality cars, modest in price and weight and upkeep, are no longer compelled to be content with a Four.

The Handsomest Car

This HUDSON Six-40 is, in addition, the handsomest design of the year. The design and equipment are almost identical with the new HUDSON Six-54. It has a streamline body of the most distinguished type. Extra tires are carried ahead of the front door. The gasoline tank is in the dash. There are two extra disappearing tonneau seats. Hinges and speedometer gear are concealed. It has the convenient new "One-Man" top, with quick-adjusting curtains attached. It has dimming searchlights, hand-buffed leather upholstery. No last year's car, at any price, offered so many attractions.

Not Enough for All

The evidence is that the demand for this car will far exceed the output. The sale so far has broken all HUDSON records. So we urge you who may want it to come now and inspect it. Come anyway, if only to see the new features of this year's first-class cars.

BLAND'S WIDOW HAS FEDERAL JOB IN DENVER

Mother of Ten Children Practically in Charge of Internal Revenue Office There.

DENVER, Colo., Feb. 4.—Mrs. Richard P. Bland, widow of the Missouri Congressman who led the free silver movement, entered upon her duties as Assistant United States Internal Revenue Collector at Denver, Colo., yesterday.

Mrs. Bland, who heretofore has resided in Lebanon, Mo., is the first woman in the United States to hold such an office. In an interview after her arrival in Denver she admitted she was not an enthusiastic suffragist and thinks the place of the married woman is at home.

Mrs. Bland is the mother of 10 children and realizes, she said, that a growing family needs a mother at the fireside. She virtually will have charge of the Denver office, although her title is Assistant Internal Revenue Collector.

LETTERS FROM THE PEOPLE

Units for a Great Pageant.
To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.
No St. Louis is not bankrupt. We've got the men, we've got the talent, we've got the money, too. In addition we've got ideals and ambition and sufficient wisdom to recognize our lack of experience along certain lines. Like true Missourians we wish to be shown how to put through not only the biggest, but the best thing attempted in the line of pageant drama. Therefore, like sensible men, we have aimed to secure the experienced guidance and direction necessary to insure success. Furthermore, by this action we have demonstrated that St. Louis is no backwoods town, but a cosmopolitan city. It is only the provincial and parochial community that is puffed by the importation and employment of knowledge and experience not yet possessed by its membership. It is only the poverty-stricken who must perform do by themselves in bungling fashion what might be called well done under expert direction. It is only the conceited ignoramus who seems to play second fiddle to acknowledged masters of the art.

Fortunately St. Louis possesses thousands of broad-minded and loyal citizens of both sexes eager to have any part, however small, in the team work which will make of the pageant a unifying force and a source of pride for years to come.
GUSTAVE TUCKERMAN.

A Natty Chicagoan.
To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.
Coming home from the car tonight the car was pretty crowded. One gentleman sitting in the car got up and it seemed as if he was going to get off the car. Down in the just vacated seat some man sat down, but barring a lady from sitting there. The gentleman who had gotten up, but who did not get out of the car, pulled the other fellow out of the seat, allowing the lady to sit there and said: "That shows what politeness the St. Louis people have. I am from Chicago."

"If you think the above worth putting in print, Mr. Editor, please do so. Only I would tell the people of St. Louis one thing, can't we (I'm a St. Louisian myself), show some of these Chicagoans something?"
A ST. LOUISIAN.

A Word to Coal Dealers.
To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.
Don't wait for this," says a card in our street cars, illustrated by a driver manfully playing his staggering team, behind which is seen rising a six-ton load of coal.

We do not have to wait for this in the city of St. Louis. Coal dealers are daily sending out overloaded wagons, dragged by two wholly inadequate horses, which are beaten through the streets and arrive panting and dripping and exhausted before some coal chute, to there shiver unheeded in the cold wind until the very stupor delivered load is hand shoveled from its deep box into a hopper or more often dumped upon the sidewalk.

The whole method of delivery of coal in our city is not only inhuman but stupidly costly and unclean.

Many of us have taken note of these things and are clubbing together to see to it that we purchase our fuel from such dealers as have the most modern forms of delivery. It is time that the companies handling fuel wake up to the antiquated methods of delivery and get in line with other cities, where the dumping wagon has long ago replaced the shovel and the automobile truck the horse.

The disgrace and the terrible cruelties daily witnessed in our streets should be stopped if we are to rank among civilized communities and free form of big stake wagon, overloaded and abusive, and the antiquated coal wagon especially, must disappear.

I say to the coal dealers that the first one who adopts the modern method of delivery will get the business.
HUMANITY AND DECENTY.

Name for New High School.
To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.
While the workmen are building our new High School on Virginia avenue, and the School Board and public are pondering over what great name to give it, I suggest that we name it after the greatest educator the world has ever known, Mr. Jan Amos Komensky (Comenius), a native of Bohemia. He was the first man that introduced our system of teaching in our public schools in America. The school is situated in a thickly populated district of liberty-loving Bohemians, and the name Komensky (or Comenius) High School would be the most appropriate, and I feel satisfied that the general public will approve the name.

In behalf of the American Czechs of St. Louis I will appreciate it very much if you will publish this article in your valuable paper.
BERT LISK, 3311 South Compton avenue.

AN INSOLENT CONSPIRACY.

Today's Republic quoted Mr. Scherrer, promoter of the A. & M. approach, as saying: "If this A. & M. approach be the one that is selected I expect to make $1,500,000 on the transaction."

It is interesting to note that the amount Mr. Scherrer expects to make, according to the quotation, is the amount the city is asked to appropriate in excess of the sum necessary to build the city's own approach. The proposition may therefore be stated thus:

If the A. & M. approach is the one selected, Scherrer will make $1,500,000 and the city will lose $1,500,000 on the transaction.

Whether Mr. Scherrer will make exactly $1,500,000 on the transaction or said he would make that much is a matter of small importance. The A. & M. scheme has been thoroughly exposed as a land speculation whose moneyless promoters refuse to tell who is back of it. They offered once to tell the Mayor in secret on his pledge not to reveal it. The Post-Dispatch has shown that the whole project is formed on a shoe-string land venture without any reason or excuse, except the interest of a gang of promoters and speculators. Its adoption would not only be costly in money to the city, but would threaten with prolonged delay and ruin the entire free bridge project in which the city has already invested $3,500,000 and is paying daily $800 to maintain.

The insolence of the A. & M. gang who are trying to foist their speculative grab on St. Louis is only surpassed by the defiant treachery of the House combine who as elected servants of the city are betraying public interests to serve private greed.

How strong and resourceful the conspiracy is was indicated by the Council's action in appointing a Conference Committee with a majority in favor of the A. & M. grab. The Council majority must rectify this blunder or confess stultification.

The situation calls for extraordinary public action to save the free bridge and protect the city's interests from betrayal.

Premier Yamamoto having emphatically denied the report that the Japanese Government has sold or contemplated selling arms to Huerta, the war promoters will have to invent a new one.

"MISSOURI'S GREATEST THINKER."
No; it is not Senator Culpeper, as you probably guessed. Nor is it William Marion Reedy, Elliott W. Major, nor Col. Fred Gardner. The title of Missouri's Greatest Thinker has been bestowed, deservedly we believe, on the Hon. Walter Williams by the editor of the Vandalia (Mo.) Leader, who has just received a post card from Mr. Williams all the way from Jalpur, India. (We have been favored with its contents, to wit: "One-fifth of the population of the world lives in this wonderful India, a country that was the cradle of civilization, yet its people are now mere babies." Incidentally Mr. Williams is probably the greatest, if not the only, thinker in India, also.)

To be hailed as the champion cerebro-spinal generator and all-round ratiocinator of the grand old Commonwealth of Missouri, involving as it does superior mental processes to Gov. Charles P. Johnson, Dr. Denton Snyder, Charles F. Krone, Dr. Philip Skrinka, McCormick McNabb, Eugene Angert, Mike Kinney, Harry Turner and other active Missouri intellectuals, to say nothing of the thinking masses, involves a distinction which we trust will have prompt and universal recognition.

As the second greatest thinker in Missouri we have no hesitation in naming the editor of the Vandalia (Mo.) Leader himself.

The "rubber" battleship has been invented, but it must not be supposed that it will stretch and offer an equivalent for two of the present $15,000,000 craft. Invention does not run that way in the world of armaments.

THE DEMAGOGUES REBUKED.
The defeat by the House of all amendments to the immigration measure providing for the exclusion of Asiatics is a decisive victory for humanity and decency. It represents sound American policy in dealing with our friends across the Pacific. Even Japan, whose people have been antagonistically attacked in debate, should be satisfied with the overwhelming vote against the exclusion amendments.

The Baker amendment was defeated by a vote of 182 to 6 and the Hayes-Lenroot amendment by a vote of 108 to 54.

The vote is a proof of the popular sentiment against the narrow, intolerant, brutal policy which the exclusion advocates have tried to force on the country. It is a smashing rebuke to the demagogues who are appealing to race prejudice and hatred for political purposes.

We indulge the hope that the House, having come to a wise conclusion on the exclusion amendments, will complete the work of humane and liberal immigration legislation by eliminating the literacy test.

AN AMBASSADOR FOR THREE DAYS.
Editor Henry M. Pindell of Peoria advisedly delayed his refusal of the St. Petersburg post until the Senate, discovering no reason for unfavorable action, had confirmed him. An earlier refusal would have left him in an equivocal position. In view of "certain gross misrepresentations," he writes the President to this effect: "I feel that it would be more delicate for me to decline the appointment than to accept it."

Some of the beneficiaries of dollar diplomacy—Henry Lane Wilson, Ambassador to Mexico, and J. G. A. Leishman, who is said to have set up a stock ticker in the Berlin Embassy—might be incapable of understanding this sort of delicacy, but it is nevertheless an admirable quality in an incumbent of an important foreign place. Mr. Pindell is left in a dignified and altogether satisfactory attitude before the public. His letter and the President's reply even cause regret that the Ambassador for three days will never actually represent us at the Russian capital.

But there is no doubt that he has chosen wisely. The editor of an influential newspaper in the second town of Illinois has opportunities to which those of St. Petersburg cannot be compared.

Speyer & Co. excuse their part in shady Frisco finance by saying that they felt it their duty to "stand by the road." They stood by it so persistently that the road fell into difficulties and then for lack of a few thousand dollars was thrown into a receivership.

BETTER FIGHTING TOOLS FOR VILLA.
The last fear that forcible intervention may become necessary in Mexico is shown to have been dispelled by the lifting of the embargo on arms. The decision to take the step at this time is reassuring to supporters of the hands-off policy. Exportations of arms and ammunition from this country would not, of course, be permitted as long as there was a possibility that they might be used against us.

How the embargo favored the Huertistas and how its removal will place both Mexican factions on terms of equality, so far as Washington is concerned, is easy to be seen. With the ordinary machinery of government at the capital and the seaports in his control, Huerta had no difficulty in purchasing war material abroad. The Constitutionalists were limited to such supplies as they could capture from the enemy or import through surreptitious channels at exorbitant prices.

An access by land routes to the munition markets of the United States that shall be equal to the Federal's access by water routes means the end of the one great disadvantage that has handicapped the Carranza forces. Without change in our policy of letting the Mexicans fight it out themselves, the lifting of the prohibition promises a more expeditious restoration of peace. The disturbed state of the country makes exportation under a permit system wise, that arms may not fall into the hands of bandits and other unauthorized persons, but recognized leaders may provide themselves with all up-to-date equipment that may be needed.

The change comes at an opportune moment, just as the advance to the South is beginning, during which powerful artillery will be helpful in attacking the Federal's strongest positions. With the best of fighting tools at his command, Gen. Villa ought to be able to exceed past successes gained with inferior tools.

STATE FOOD PROTECTION LAW.
The Council has followed the lead of the House in overriding the Mayor's veto of the commission houses' typhoid fly protection amendment to the food screening law. The disease-bearing insect for the time triumphs over the interests of the food consumer.

A law was enacted by the General Assembly and approved March 30, 1911, providing, among other things, that "the sidewalk display of food products is prohibited unless such products are inclosed in a show case or similar device, which will protect the same from flies, dust or other contamination." Food products that necessarily have to be peeled, pared or cooked before they are fit for consumption were exempted. And the law further provided that in sidewalk displays of food products "the bottom of the container be at least 18 inches above the surface of the sidewalk."

This law applies to St. Louis as well as all other parts of the State. It applies equally to wholesalers and retailers, the caption of the act containing the descriptive words: "Manufactories or other places where food is prepared, manufactured, packed, stored, sold or distributed." What do the State authorities propose to do? What do the city authorities, who are sworn to enforce the State law, propose to do? Are the people to have no protection from contamination when the State law specifically grants them such protection? Shall an organized band of lawbreakers be permitted to override State and city governments while the officials obligingly refrain from action?

GET THE CITY PLANNING EXHIBIT.
The St. Louis City Plan Commission has been in existence since July, 1911, and has made a number of valuable suggestions. But what is needed is to convince the taxpayers and property owners that the suggested improvements in the way of fine river front, a system of connecting boulevards and plazas, downtown parks, playgrounds, swimming pools, etc., are needed to place St. Louis in the ranks with cities that have been converted to this view.

The City Planning Exhibit that has been such a success in New York, is offered to St. Louis at a reasonable cost for a given period. It shows, by numerous charts, maps, photographs, models, etc., what other cities, in Europe and America, have done and are doing in the planning of streets, parks, playgrounds, waterways, transportation facilities, civic centers, public buildings, housing of the people, etc.

The Public Library authorities have offered the use of a hall in the Central Library building free, for the display. It will cost from $750 for five days to $1200 for a two-weeks exhibit.

Seeing is believing. The exhibit is highly attractive as well as educational. We should by all means bring this exhibit to St. Louis, for a week at least, so that all the people may know what a "City Beautiful" will mean for this community.

FRAUDULENT "EXTRAS."
Certain afternoon newspapers make the mistake of supposing that "fake" extras, issued late in the day and based upon rumors of news already familiar to the reading public, are "good business." The fake extra injures the reputation of the newspaper that issues it.

Such extras mean obtaining money under false pretenses. They are issued on the assumption that you can fool a part of the people all the time. And they are a cause of exasperation to readers, who do not like to be disturbed and perhaps lured out of their homes by false claims, hoarsely shouted, that something sensational has happened.

Newspapers that value their reputation are extremely careful about issuing extras. An extra based on real news, of great and urgent interest, meets a public demand and is always welcome. The fake extra is an unmitigated nuisance that should be suppressed.

SUFFRAGIST: "HOW ABOUT ME?"

JUST A MINUTE.

Written for the Post-Dispatch by Clark McAdams.

NEW VERSION.
The Municipal Assembly has passed over the Mayor's veto the bill exempting wholesalers from the screening law.—News.

"WILL you walk into my parlor?"
Said the spider to the fly,
"No, thank you," said the visitor,
"I do not want to die;
Nor would it be allowable—
I am a wholesale fly!"

PERHAPS you read the papers—
If so, you must have seen
How wholesale flies are classified—
They are not low and mean;
They do not carry pestilence,
Nor do they need a screen.

"I KNOW about your parlor—
It has its uses, too;
The retail fly is what you want
To see your rendezvous;
It carries germs, which wholesale flies
Are never known to do."

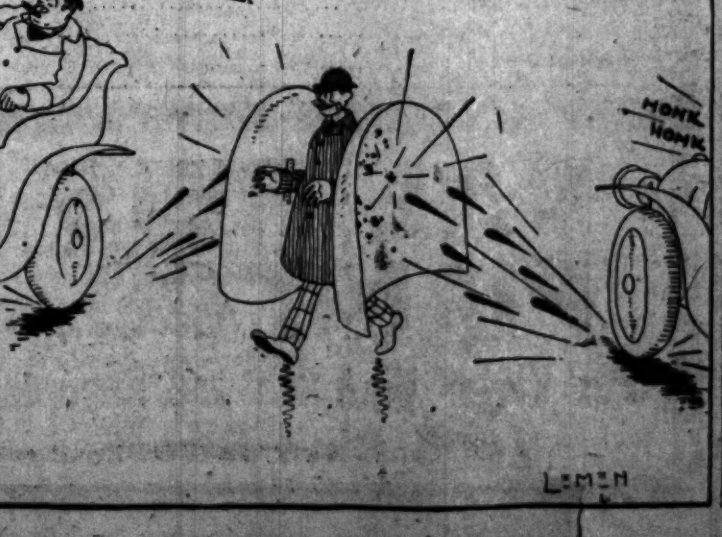

"HUMBLY beg your pardon."
Said the spider to the fly,
"I did not know the difference,
Till you came bumbling by.
You are a sort of honey bee,
I readily decry."

STAR GAZER.—Mrs. The planet's apparent westward or retrograde motion at times is a purely optical illusion. It is due to the fact that the planet is moving in a curve around the sun, and that the earth is moving in a straight line around the sun. The apparent retrograde motion is due to the fact that the planet is moving in a curve around the sun, and that the earth is moving in a straight line around the sun.

PROXY STOCK VOTE VOID

Judge Holds Practice Illegal in Peru Fuel Works Case.

PEORIA, Ill., Feb. 4.—Declaring that the stockholders could not come to their stock and place it in the hands of a trustee to vote it as he desired, Judge John M. Niehaus in the Circuit Court here today handed down a decision for the plaintiff in the case brought by Ferd Luthy against Henry Ream, involving the management of the Peru Plow Works at Peru, Ill.

The court held that the trust agreement was void as against public policy; that it was revocable at the instance of the owner of any of the stock involved in it and the salaries paid by Reagin, E. D. Brewster and William Holly to themselves as officers were unlawful and void.

JEFFERSON CITY, Feb. 4.—Edward Hogan, who was accused of attacking a woman in St. Louis County in March, 1912, and was arrested but forfeited his bond and fled, has been located at Bremerton, Wash., according to a letter to Gov. Major from Prosecuting Attorney Lashley of St. Louis county, today.

S'MATTER POP?

MY WIFE

THE JARR FAMILY

Written for the Post-Dispatch
By ROY L. MCCARDELL

East Malaria Will Stage a Fire Fight—if the Horses Arrive.

"SEVENTY-FOUR" cried Mr. Jenkins, counting the fire alarm whistle blasts. "That's at the corner of Main street and Quince avenue. You know, we have a street naming system in East Malaria. The streets are all numbered except Main street, and the avenues in the old part of town are all named after fruits. There's Quince avenue, Lemon avenue and Prune avenue. In the new development parks the streets all have fancy names, such as Forest Crag avenue, Belle View boulevard. Forest Crag avenue is built on stilts through old Midland marsh, in the Instalments Park section. Belle View boulevard is the old rock cut road through the stone quarries."

"But we'll be too late to see the aerial truck hook and ladder go to the fire!" interrupted Mr. Jarr.

"Oh, there's plenty of time," said Mr. Jenkins. "Somebody is out getting the horses. We borrow a pair of horses to pull the aerial truck hook and ladder and sometimes the coal and ice companies won't send us a team. But we're going to have a bond issue to buy a pair of trained fire horses in Kansas City."

"Why go to Kansas City?" asked Mr. Jarr. "Can't local horses pull the truck?"

"Would they be regular fire horses?" asked Mr. Jenkins in turn. "Besides, if it wasn't the trips we Commissioners get to distant cities to buy things for city use, what would we get out of being Commissioners?"

"The Commissioners would get their commission rake off on the side—don't the salesmen split with the Commissioners even when they come to a show-down?" Mr. Jarr inquired. "Aren't you Commissioners so called because they get commissions?"

"Bessie!" cried Mr. Jenkins. "You talk like a local editor who isn't getting the city printing. We defy you to prove we split a commission, and even so—mustn't we go examine the plants that make the apparatus? Isn't it good economy for the city to pay the traveling expenses of its Commissioners?"

Mr. Jarr didn't know. What he did know was that the fire alarm whistle of the soap factory was making a most terrible and persistent series of screams—seven long screams and four short ones.

"The fire is somewhere back of the clubhouse," explained Mr. Jenkins, as the two stood by the front of the bowling alley waiting for the Chief of the Fire Department to arrive with the key of somebody to arrive with a pair of horses to pull the new big aerial truck housed in the old bowling alley.

"We'd better break in the door!" cried one of the Health or Street Commissioners—for Commissioners were coming running. "Chief Hen Peters never fails to beat Malaria until the 4th gate in from the city."

"That's against discipline," said Jenkins, who had pinned his gold Fire Commissioner's badge outside his coat.

doublets to frighten the flames, but really, as Mr. Jarr afterward learned, as his credentials to ride the new fire truck, while the other sorts of East Malaria Commissioners were made to set off.

"That's our new fire alarm system," Mr. Jenkins continued, as the soap factory whistle kept hooting raucously. "Before that we only used to have an old locomotive tire hanking in front of the Broadway Grand Hotel, but as Ben Ellmeyer, the landlord, used it as a dinner gong, any fire at meal hours weren't considered alarms."

"Then, too, when his bar business was bad, Ben would ring a false alarm, and when all the firemen would gather to find out where the fire was—if it was a nice night for a fire—Ben, who was a great joker, would say, 'Is the stove! And the boys would all laugh and set 'em up. But Ben's hotel caught on fire just at dinner time, and his place burned up before the boys could figure out whether it was an extra dinner call or if Ben wanted to give a fire drill for the benefit of a traveling stock company or some drummer he liked, for we realized it was ringing too long for a call to dinner. Ben wasn't insured, and he's now a Street Commissioner, waiting for something to turn up."

"Then we installed a modern fire alarm system," divided the town into street corner number calls, and the folks nearest the fire telephone into the soap factory. It works fine except at night, when they can't wake up the watchman."

"But, Great Scott!" cried Mr. Jarr. "Where are the horses to take out the hook and ladder truck? And where are the firemen?"

"Oh, they've all gone up the street back of the bowling alley here to see the fire," explained Mr. Jenkins. "Listen to the autos! Many of our firemen have automobiles, and when they hear the alarm indicating the situation of the fire they ride right to the fire."

"But I see the Chief's wife has sent her little girl with the truckhouse key."

"I'm Falling in Love With Some One!"

Considering the fact that most of our cities are ruled by the Irish, it seems rather mean for Cork to talk of ousting Lord Mayor O'Shea on the ground that he is an American.—New Orleans States.

"Sleep is an illusion," says Gabriele d'Annunzio, whoever he is. And maybe it is; but getting up in the morning is one of the sternest tests of realism that is encountered during a whole day.—Toledo Blade.

The tango is blamed by an English publisher for the alleged decline in novel reading. If the publisher had seen the tango danced he would realize his mistake. Nobody could accuse the dancers of being book lovers.

The number of persons convicted of crime in the State of New York increased from 15,041 in 1913 to 18,337 in 1914. If this ratio of increase is maintained the State may eventually become a safe place for an unsophisticated Westerner to visit.—Indianapolis News.

Married men, according to Gen. Wood, are better fighters than bachelors. Perhaps it is because they have more practice.—Topeka Journal.

The Swiss have barred the tango from their country. They prefer the glacial slide.—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

A Very Busy Man.

ONE thing I like about our new man," said a member of the firm to his partner, "is that he is reliable. You can always tell what he is going to do next."

"And what is that?"

"Nothing."

Strange Increase.

THE large number of paintings that unscrupulous dealers declare to be the work of the old masters is aptly satirized by Robert Henri, the artist.

"Take, for instance," said Mr. Henri, "the work of the illustrious English artist, George Morland, who lived 100 years ago. The indefatigable Morland painted, in the course of his life, about 4000 pictures, and of these—"

Mr. Henri smiled his quiet and intelligent smile.

"Of these," he continued, "no less than 3000 are still extant."—Pittsburg Chronicle-Telegraph.
